

The development of quality standards in Albania

Eshija Adem Shehabi

Tetovo State University

Abstract

Quality standards as a quick and inalienable process for the development of a state or private organization affects the structure and efficiency of the management of the organization, the effectiveness of internal development that represents a quality product or service accepted by the client. Standards management is a documented process for the entire organization. Tests or lab analysis that guarantee the constant quality of products and services are only achieved with the application, implementation and certification of quality standards. Albania, as a developing country and on the efforts of a deeper integration in the international economy, must necessarily develop quality standards, as a key process in order to be competitive in the international market.

This manuscript analyzes the integrated local standards in accordance with international standards. According to the collected data and statistics these quality standards have contributed in the competitiveness in the international economy.

Keywords: Quality standards, organization, economic development, Globalization, SMC.

Full Text: PDF

This work is licensed under Creative Commons Attribution 3.0 License.

Academic Journal of Business, Administration, Law and Social Sciences ISSN 2410-3918 (print)

ISSN 2410-8693 (online)

Copyright © IIPCCCL-International Institute for Private, Commercial and Competition law